Brethren,
I hope you have all enjoyed your summertime activities, and I am excited to see all the good things that are happening in the lodge right now. We have lots of degree work coming up and I hope to see you all get involved and assist us in helping these brothers on the journeys in Masonry. I am also always open to suggestions or ideas of things we as a Lodge can do to help make your own Masonic experience the best it can be, so please don't hesitate to bring those things to my attention. Thank You.

My Creed

"To live as gently as I can,
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take what comes of good or ill;
To cling to faith and honor still;
To do my best and let stand
The record of my brain and hand;
And then, should failure come to me,
Still work and hope for victory!
"To have no secret place wherein
I stoop unseen to shame or sin;
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known,
To live undaunted, unafraid
Of any step that I have made;
To be without pretense or sham,
Exactly what men think I am."

What's Happening, What's New

I would like to thank everyone who attended and participated in our 4th of July pot-luck dinner and festivities. We had a great turnout, lots of good food and friendship, and I believe everyone had a great time! Our pot luck for this month will be on Thursday the 16th, beginning at 6:00 pm.

We have a lot of exciting things happening right now in the lodge, with candidates continuing to progress, new candidates receiving their degrees this month, and new petitions coming in as well. Keep an eye on the calendar, and watch for Facebook and email updates to be sure you don't miss out!

With summer winding down, and school starting up again, we hope to take some time and get a few housekeeping items taken care of with the building before the weather begins to turn. We will discuss more at our stated meeting, so I hope to see everyone there!

What do you know about Masonry?

Duly and Truly Prepared

Being "Duly and Truly Prepared" is a Masonic expression. Masons understand its significance in the Lodge Rooms. However, they may also interpret it outside the Lodge. No Mason enters even the ground floor of the Lodge unless he is "Duly and Truly Prepared." So simple is his dress that it provokes no envy. He is dressed properly for the occasion, and everyone so dressed feels perfectly at ease among his Brethren. No place here for the rich to boast of fine raiment and resplendent jewels, nor for the poor to envy his more fortunate Brother or covet his wealth. Their clothing in each case symbolizes labor and innocence. With hand and brain, each is ready to serve his fellowman; with forbearance and toleration, each is willing to forgive the crude and ignorant everywhere. To carry the symbolism of Masonic investiture still further, every Mason should be clothed in the habiliments of truth. His wardrobe should contain the robe of justice, with which to protect those who, for any reason, have been deprived of their just rights; the mantle of charity, with which to comfort those made destitute, many times by no cause of their own; the tunic of toleration, with which to hide the weakness of the wayward, and help them to the road of recovery; the cloak of mercy, with which to cover the wounded and suffering in mind or body with unstinting sympathy and kindness.

These garments are all of genius quality, measured and cut by a Master Tailor. They are serviceable and in good taste on every occasion. They, too, may be had without money and without price, and, the man who wears them is truly "properly clothed," and "Duly and Truly Prepared" as a Master Mason.
