What's Happening – What's New

As all are aware the Lodges in Utah are still shut down, and regrettably, we have not yet received any word as to when we may expect to return to labor. We again want to express our thanks to our candidates and potential new members who have been patiently awaiting the day when we are allowed to conduct business again. We also extend a thank you to those who have been checking on the building and doing some cleaning and maintenance in this down time.

I am very happy to report that Worshipful Master Ed Nelson is doing well following his heart surgery, and he expresses his thanks to those who have kept him in their prayers and have sent well-wishes.

As a matter of announcement our lodge website and domain have been renewed for another year, and I wanted to take this opportunity to once again thank Wor. Bro. Terry Lee for his hard work and dedication in maintaining the site. This is also a great time to remind everyone of the enormous digital library that we have available to us on the website, and I would encourage everyone to make use of it during this time – Masonic Education is one of the things that I have dearly missed during this ongoing pandemic, and I have found myself very much enjoying many of the titles in the library.

Fraternally, John Adams PM, Secretary

For Your Consideration...

“Man is climbing an endless flight of steps, with his eyes fixed upon the goal at the top. Many cannot see the goal, and only one or two steps are visible before them. He has learned, however, one great lesson - namely, that as he builds his own character he is given strength to climb the steps. Hence a Mason is a builder of the temple of character. He is the architect of a sublime mystery - the gleaming, glowing temple of his own soul. He realizes that he best serves God when he joins with the Great Architect in building more noble structures in the universe below. All who are attempting to attain mastery through constructive efforts are Masons at heart, regardless of religious sect or belief. A Mason is not necessarily a member of a lodge. In a broad sense, he is any person who daily tries to live the Masonic life, and to serve intelligently the needs of the Great Architect. The Masonic brother pledges himself to assist all other temple-builders in whatever extremity of life; and in so doing he pledges himself to every living thing, for they are all temple-builders, building more noble structures to the glory of the universal God.

Freemasonry is a philosophy which is essentially creedless. It is the truer for it. Its brothers bow to truth regardless of the bearer; they serve light, instead of wrangling over the one who brings it. In this way they prove that they are seeking to know better the will and the dictates of the Invincible One. No truer religion exists than that of world comradeship and brotherhood, for the purpose of glorifying one God and building for Him a temple of constructive attitude and noble character.”
