Brethren,

I hope you all had a great Thanksgiving with your family and friends, I know I did.

This past year has been a great year for our Lodge. We have had several new members and many that are going through the probationary period to become members. This is great for our membership and for the future of Masonry in Cedar City.

This past year, we started having a family dinner on the 3rd Thursday of the month. These have been very successful, with 30-40 people attending. These have not just been for family, but also for friends and others who are interested in Masonry as well. I would like to thank Bro. Boyd Matheson and his lady Debra for their time and efforts heading up the dinners, and for everyone else who have supported these events to make them what they have become. I hope this is something that will continue into next year, and the years to come.

For the last three years I have served you as Worshipful Master. This has been an honor and a privilege, being able to work with so many great Masons who have supported me throughout the years. With such a small lodge, we really have a great core of members who keep the Lodge strong, and I couldn't have done it without all of you.

This goes out to our W.B. Secretary, John Adams. He has been there for me every step of the way, he has been a valuable asset to our Lodge, and there is much that he has done behind the scenes for all of us. I could not thank him enough – he is not just a brother to me, but a great friend. This is really what Masonry can do, building strong and everlasting relationships.

I am very excited with the leadership and the new line of officers going in this year, and I look forward to working with all of them and supporting them in any way I can, and I hope we can all make 2019 the best year yet for Cedar City Lodge #35!

As this is my last message going out, I want to thank you all again for all your support and friendship.

Sincerely and Fraternally,
Chris Young PM, Worshipful Master
